

St. Thomas Aquinas University Parish twinned with St. Michel's Church, Saltadere, Haiti

Preschool class with teacher

In the 1990's the diocese of Richmond began working with the diocese of Hinche in Haiti to establish one on one relationships between parishes in each diocese. St. Michel's Parish in the village of Saltadère, Haiti, is twinned with St. Thomas Aquinas Parish and Holy Comforter Parish in Charlottesville, Virginia.

Representatives of the two parishes have visited Saltadère several times in the last few years, most recently in March, 2009. Many of the trips have included medical personnel to provide much-needed aid to the people of Saltadère and the surrounding countryside.

The essence of twinning is to build real friendships between Americans and Haitians. This is just as important, in the long run, as the material aid we can give. Traveling to Haiti – and, when possible, bringing Haitians to visit us – is an essential part of the program. In our parish the oversight for the twinning relationship is carried out by the Haiti Committee (see our weekly report in the bulletin—The Haitian Station). Some activities have involved other ministries of our parish, including Respect Life and Christian Formation to provide Safe Birth Kits and Student Health Kits to Saltadère. Additionally, the school children of Lekol St. Michel have benefited from an Eagle Scout project that gathered and donated clothing for the children.

We look forward to an exciting year ahead and we always welcome new members to this Ministry!

St. Michel's parish school has a new school building, dedicated in February 2007, which houses eleven classrooms and is constructed entirely of durable cement-block. The total cost of the school construction has exceeded $130,000.

The students eat at their desks in their classrooms, because there is no dining hall. Now a proper enclosed kitchen and storage area has replaced the crude outdoor kitchen and an existing classroom will be converted to a refectory. Additional funds are still needed to convert that old classroom into a dining hall.

One way that parishioners at St. Thomas Aquinas and at Holy Comforter parishes can help support the school is by sponsoring one or more children at the school. Information about the children and forms to sign up as a sponsor are located at the Haiti Table, which is at the foot of the main stairway on the lower level.
